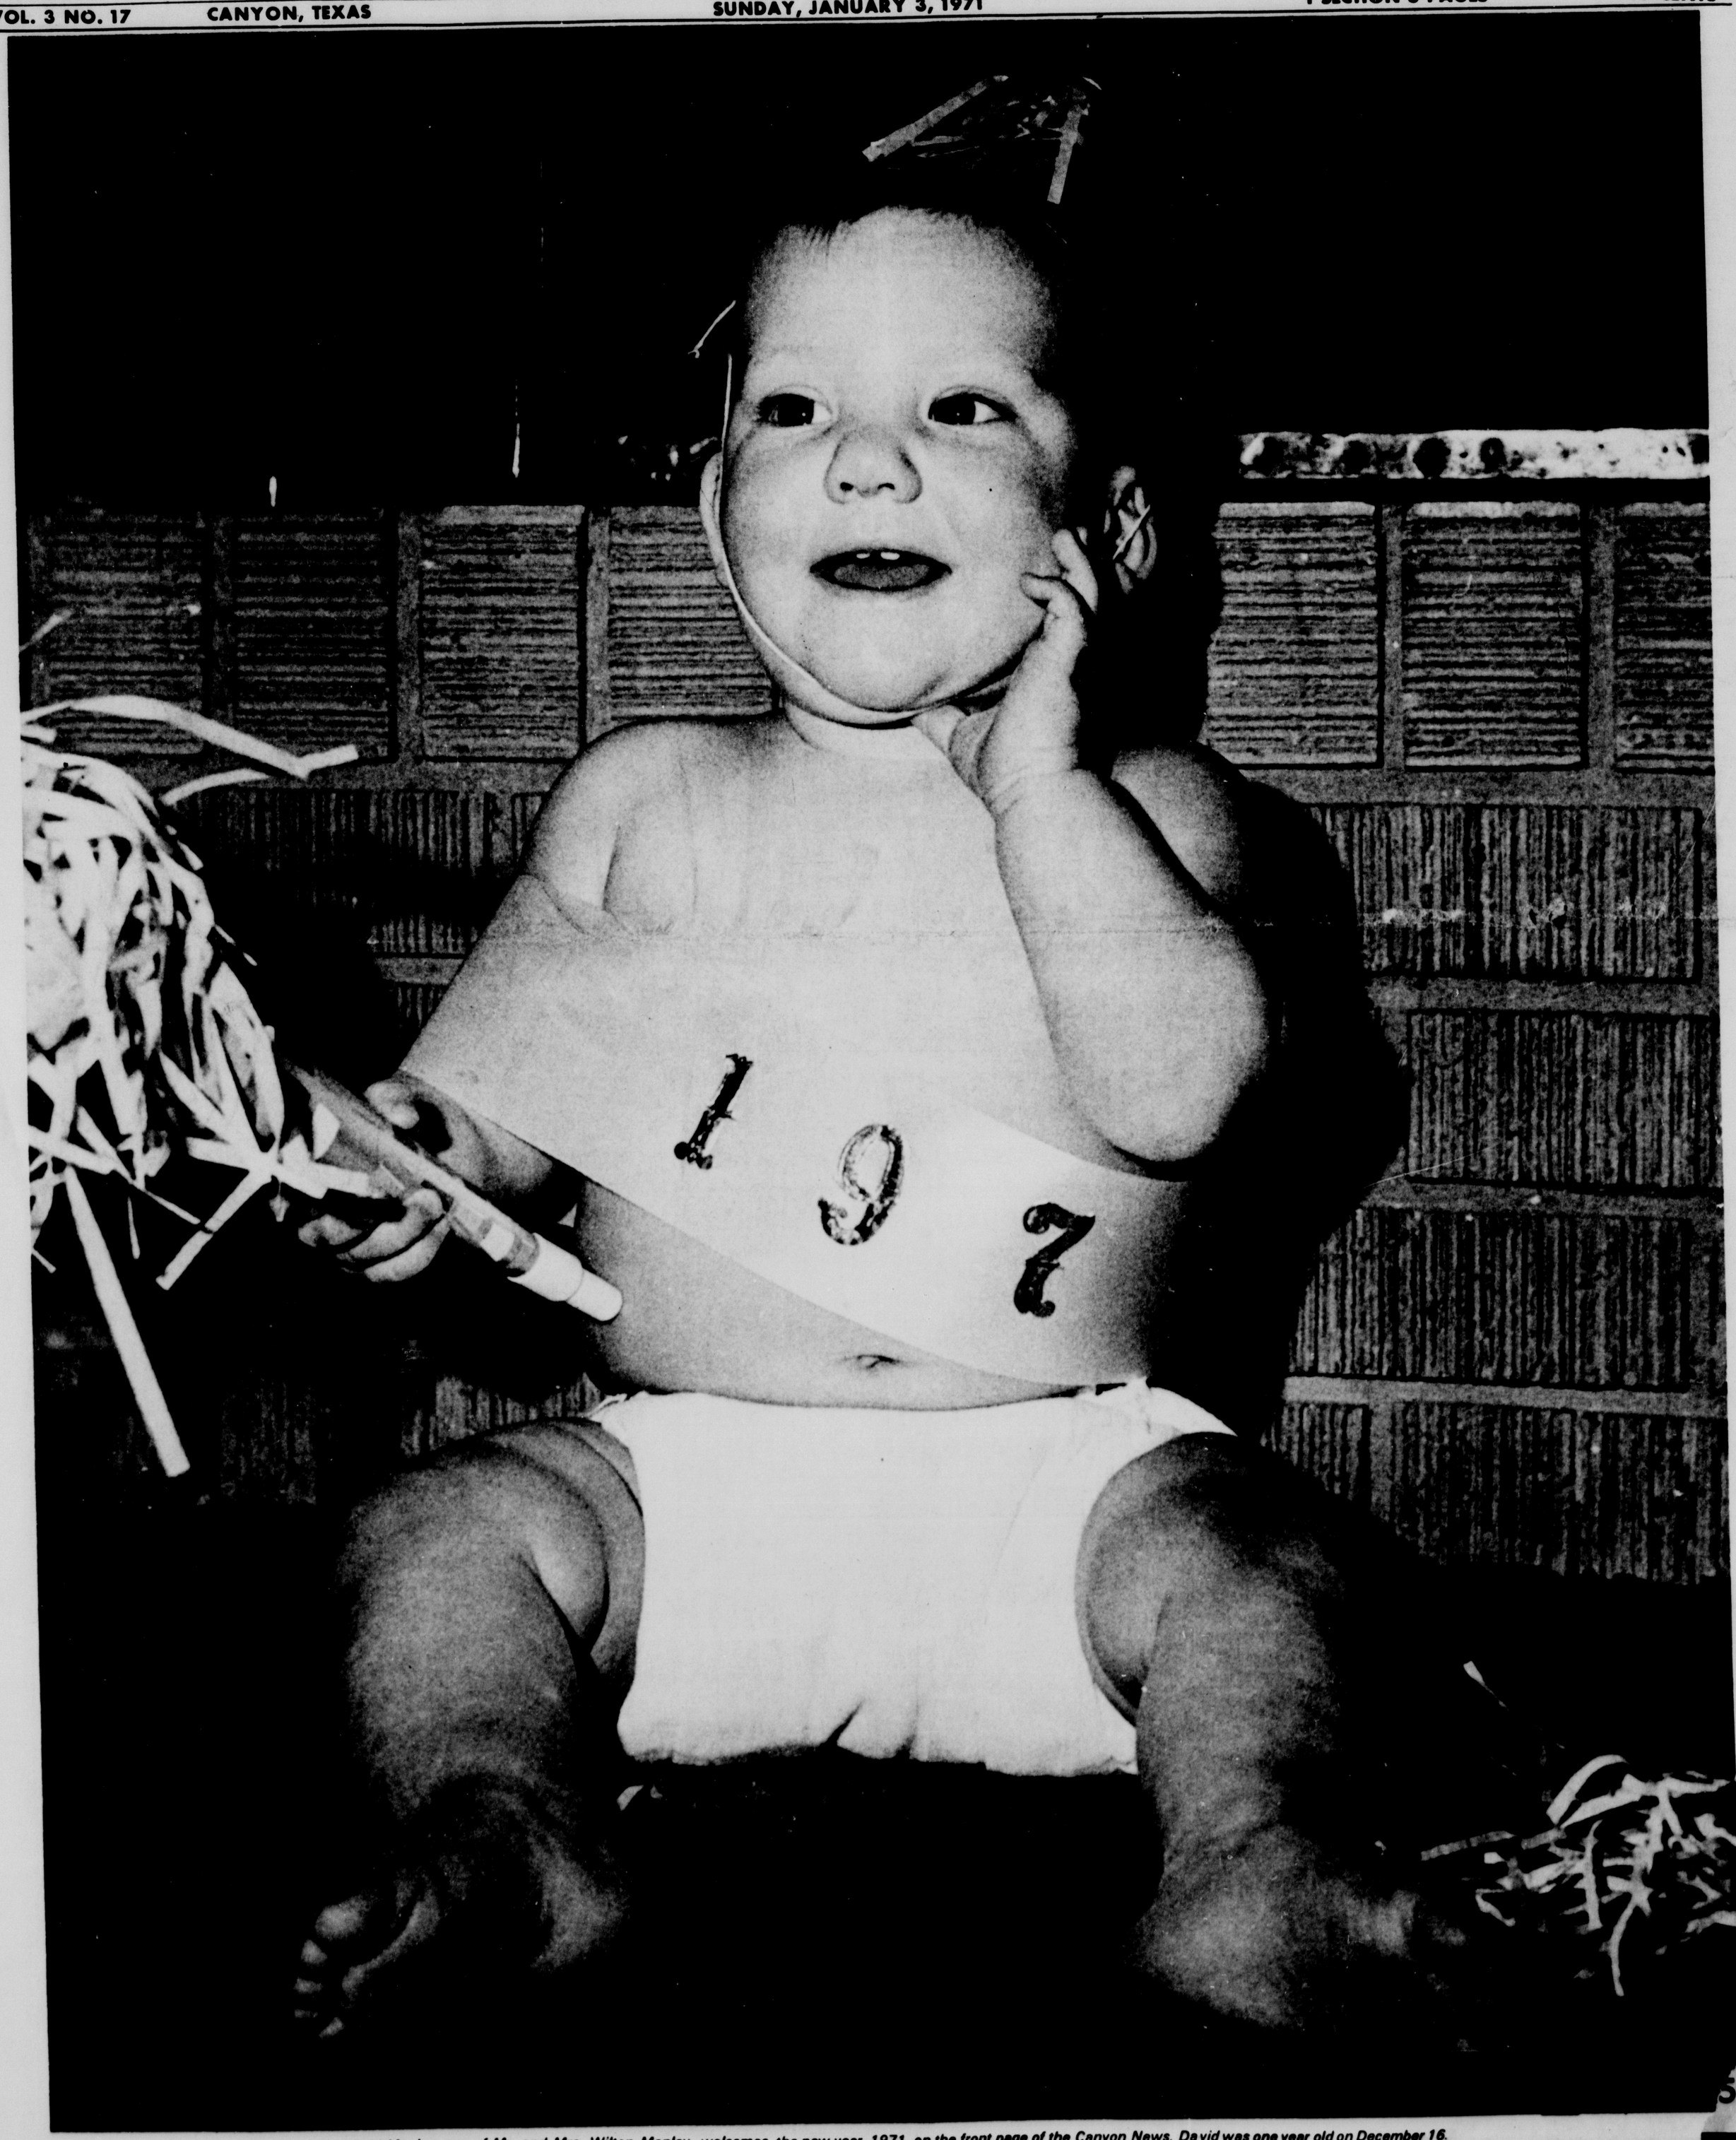
VOL. 3 NO. 17 CANYON, TEXAS SUNDAY, JANUARY 3, 1971 1 SECTION 8 PAGES 10 CENTS



David Manley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilton Manley, welcomes the new year, 1971, on the front page of the Canyon News. David was one year old on December 16.

Drouth, Narcotics, Politics Make Top Stories

BY TROY MARTIN

Whatever may be said of the first year of the scintillating seventies—it wasn't dull.

The year began with a narcotics raid which netted some 14 persons. Three of them have been tried and received sentences ranging from 8 to 16 years.

Randall County Criminal District Attorney said the remainder will be tried this year. Testimony of a diminutive housewife who worked as an undercover agent led to convictions of those tried.

She is the key witness in the cases yet to go to trial.

Drouth figured in 1970 news. Some areas in Randall County received less than 4 inches of moisture while most of the county got less than half the normal rainfall of 19.5 inches.

Politics played a major role in the news last year. It got off to an early start. There were several key races.

The Republicans had their first hotly contested primary.

Randall County Republican Chairman Dick Brooks accused "American Party defectors" of trying to take over the county GOP.

Buddy Schley, Amarillo municipal judge, squared off against Amarillo's controversial mayor, J. Ernest Stroud, for nomination for Randall County judge. Schley defeated Stroud in the primary but was himself defeated by Woody Pond in the general election in November.

Randall County Judge Carroll Brown switched from the Democratic to the Republican Party and ran for judge of the 181st Judicial Disrict.

Jerry Kolander challenged a Preston Smith appointee, Don Dean, for the newly-created judgeship. Dean won the primary and went on to win over Brown in November.

Engineer John Fulgenzi was nominated on the Republican ticket for commissioner, Precinct 2 as was Oth Miller on the Democratic ticket.

Fulgenzi was elected and will bring to four the number of Republicans in elective offices in Randall County. The commissioners court will be split even on party lines but a Democratic judge will have the deciding vote if the court deadlocks.

In another key race, Max Sherman of Amarillo emerged as the new state senator replacing Canyon's veteran Grady Hazlewood.

Buffalo Lake almost passed out of existence during 1970. Experts blame its demise on pollution and lack of water. Even normal rainfall wouldn't solve its problems they say since small dams back up the Tierra Blanca plus efficient moisture-holding farming methods would even then deny the lake the water it needs.

Back in March the community began laying plans for a new hospital but it still was in the planning stage at year's end.

In March the girl Eagles brought new sports honors to Canyon High School by emerging as runnersup for the state schoolgirl basketball championship.

They were beaten by Tuloso Midway of Corpus Christi, the team from whom they themselves had wrested the state crown the previous year.

The boy Eagles won their district but lost out to Lamesa in a bid for state honors.

In April Dr. J. Manly Bryan was elected mayor of Canyon and Dr. Dudley Moore became school board president.

Out at West Texas State University a School of Agriculture got the green light and at year's end had embraced ambitious goal for the Nance Ranch donated to it.

Plans call for making the ranch into one of the nation's top teaching and experimental facilities.

Proposed route for the I-27 highway bypass of Canyon has come in for considerable discussion during the year. Although no decision has been made, it seems likely that the by-pass will go east of Canyon.

A slate of speakers at West Texas State caused a ripple of protest which got even as far as the governor's office.

City Commissioner Kenneth Olsen was forced to resign late in the year because of a court ruling which would have curtailed his pay as a WTSU faculty member had he continued as a city commissioner.

Dr. Willis Harrison replaced him on the commission.

The commission accepted Olsen's resignation "with regret."

City sales tax went into effect in April here but to date hasn't raised as much revenue as had been anticipated.

Census takers credited Canyon with more than 8,000 population, an increase of some 38 percent over the 1960 figure.

Stockholders in Canyon Credit Union were paid off to the tune of $242,520.45 in May.

At its annual meeting in Amarillo, Randall County representatives to the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission expressed dissatisfaction with a new set of bylaws adopted but the commissioners court decided to stay in PRPC "since we can't fight the thing from the outside."

District Judge E. E. "Gene" Jordan, left, gives the oath of office to Woody Pond, county judge; and John Fulgenzi, commissioner of Precinct 2; in ceremonies Friday morning at Randall County Court House. Pond and Fulgenzi are two new members of commissioners court. They were among more than a dozen county and precinct officials to be sworn.

McAlpine Hearing Scheduled Monday

A motion has been filed in 47th District Court here by Randall County Criminal District Attorney George Dowlen asking that the 6-year probation of Rip McAlpine be revoked.

McAlpine, 25 years old, was convicted of possession of marijuana May 19, 1969 and given 6 years probation.

In granting probation Judge E. E. "Gene" Jordan told McAlpine that he was taking into consideration the young man's alleged poor state of mental and physical health.

McAlpine was arrested Dec. 5, 1968 after a raid on his posh South Amarillo apartment.

Dowlen said he "ran out of room" on the form on which he listed allegations on which he based his motion for revocation.

Dowlen said he alleges that McAlpine was in the justice court of W. A. "Bill" Wilson July 21, 1970 on a drunkenness charge. Dowlen says this violates two terms of the defendant's probation — those requiring him not to drink and to be law abiding.

Dowlen said he further alleges that McAlpine obtained lodging by fraud from the Royal Coach Inn Nov. 24, 1970.

The criminal district attorney said McAlpine twice failed to notify his probation officer when leaving the state — going to Las Vegas Aug. 14, 1970 and to Denver Nov. 21, 1970.

Dowlen related that McAlpine chartered a jet aircraft to return to Amarillo from the Las Vegas trip to attend funeral services for a relative.

Hearing on the state's motion will be held Monday before Judge Jordan.

Print Transfers, Easy To Make

Print transfers on various backgrounds can decorate a home or be given as gifts to friends.

Miss Bess Brillhart, Canyon High School geometry teacher, has decorated her apartment with the prints over the past few months.

The largest print she has transferred is a large travel poster of New York City at night. This print is on canvas.

Most of the pictures, however, have been transferred to a piece of wood.

"First take a picture you like. It can be a post card, magazine picture. . . anything you'd like to do."

"You paint it with Hyplar gloss medium and varnish. You paint four coats on the front of the paper. One vertical, one horizontal, one vertical, then one horizontal, letting them dry between each coat. They dry fast."

"Let this set overnight."

"Prepare your board. If you use canvas board you can skip these next few steps."

"Take a board that has been cut the size you need, have it beveled if you want to, sand the rough parts off of it, then paint it, stain it or antique it in the color you want."

"Let this dry overnight."

"The print should be soaked in warm water for a little while before you very carefully start to rub the paper off the back. Once the excess paper is off the back, paint the back with Hyplar."

"The Hyplar acts as an adhesive. Then very carefully put the print on a board and rub the front with a damp cloth until it is smooth."

"Be sure and get all the wrinkles out of the picture."

"Finally, add one last coat of the Hyplar or coat the print and board with verathane varnish."

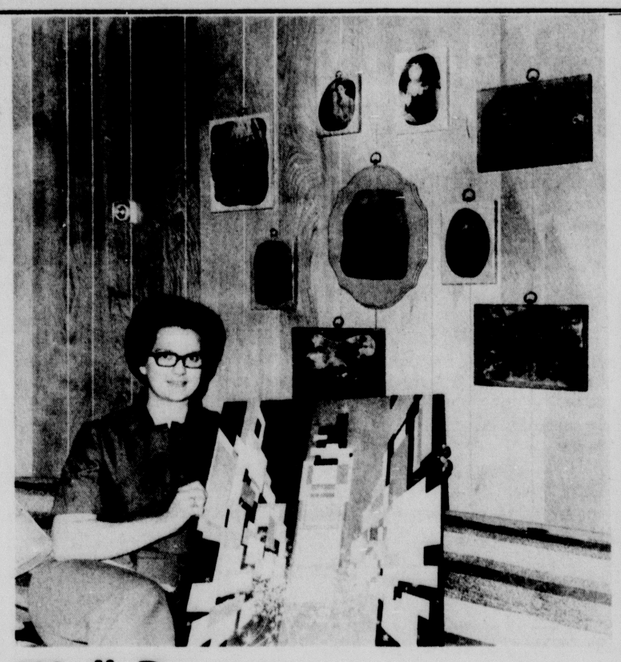
"Add a decorative hanger at the top and put it on your wall or give it as a gift."

"I plan to make some for my three nieces on ½ inch plywood and glue yellow velvet ribbon around the edge."

The teacher has taught at CHS for the past 3 years. She has her B.S. and M.Ed. from WTSU and has done post graduate work at Knox College in Galesburg, Illinois, Coloado State College in Greeley, and at the Freedom's Foundation at Valley Forge, Pennsylvania.

She taught at Amarillo High School for 1½ years and at San Angelo ½ year before coming to CHS. She sponsors the junior class, and is faculty representative for the credit union, NEA, TSTA, CTA, and is a member of the Alpha Delta Pi alumnae.

Miss Brillhart was elected as teacher of the month for December.



Wall Decor

Print transfers make clever and attractive wall decorations for houses or apartments. Bess Brillhart tells how to make the transfers in the related article.

Buffs To Meet Rebels In Cage Play Monday

Excitement '71 is the theme of West Texas State basketball as the Buffaloes open the new year against Texas-Arlington at the Amarillo Civic Coliseum Monday night. Game time is 7:30.

The Buffaloes bring a two-game winning streak, a perfect home record and a victory over a second nationally ranked team into the contest.

West Texas stunned Colorado State, one of the top 20 teams in the nation, 80-63 in a return engagement at the Coliseum last Wednesday night. Earlier last month the Buffs defeated Utah State, nationally rated at the time, 81-78 at Logan, Utah. The Aggies have lost only two games all season and last week won the strong All-College Tournament at Oklahoma City.

The Buffaloes, who promised their fans an exciting season before the year began, show sparkling improvement with each game. The triumph over Colorado State was their fourth in six games.

"I see great performances in each game that I haven't seen in other games," Coach Dennis Walling said.

"I repeat what I said before the season began that if these young men of ours realize the potential they have, then by mid-season we should have a team deserving of national ranking," he added.

Ray Golson with 24 points and 11 rebounds and 6-foot-7 Steve Davidson with a season personal high of 17 rebounds led the Buffs past Colorado State.

Golson leads West Texas in scoring with 141 points and a 23.5 points per game average and is hitting 48.3 per cent of his shots from the field. His 58 field goals in 120 attempts and 25 free throws in 40 tries are tops in those two scoring departments.

Davison, rated as one of the top five junior college players in the nation last season when he and Golson were at the Christian College of the Southwest in Dallas, is tied with 6-6 sophomore Ralph Houston in scoring with 69 points.

Playing one less game than Houston, Davidson's per game scoring average is 13.8 to Houston's 11.5. Houston heads the rebounders with 65 for six games and Davidson has 60.

As a team the Buffs are averaging 59 rebounds a game and pulled down 77, a season high, against Colorado State.

The Buffaloes also used the victory over the Rams to raise their season field goal shooting percentage to 38.2 and free throw percentage to 61.5.

Golson, who has had two 30-point games — against Utah State and in the 117-93 loss to Colorado State, is again expected to pace West Texas' scoring against Texas-Arlington.

The game will be somewhat of a reunion for Golson and Davidson with two former Christian College teammates, Ulysses Floyd and Willie Spain.

Floyd is the Rebels' fifth leading scorer, averaging 9.8 points a game. They are paced by 6-1 Greg Hunter with 16 per game.

Sherman Evans, an outstanding outside shooter, is averaging only one-half of the 20-point per game average he established in leading the Rebels last year.

The injury and illness plagued Rebels have not seen action since losing 102-83 to highly ranked Drake and 102-85 to Alabama in the Texas Classic at Fort Worth two weeks ago.

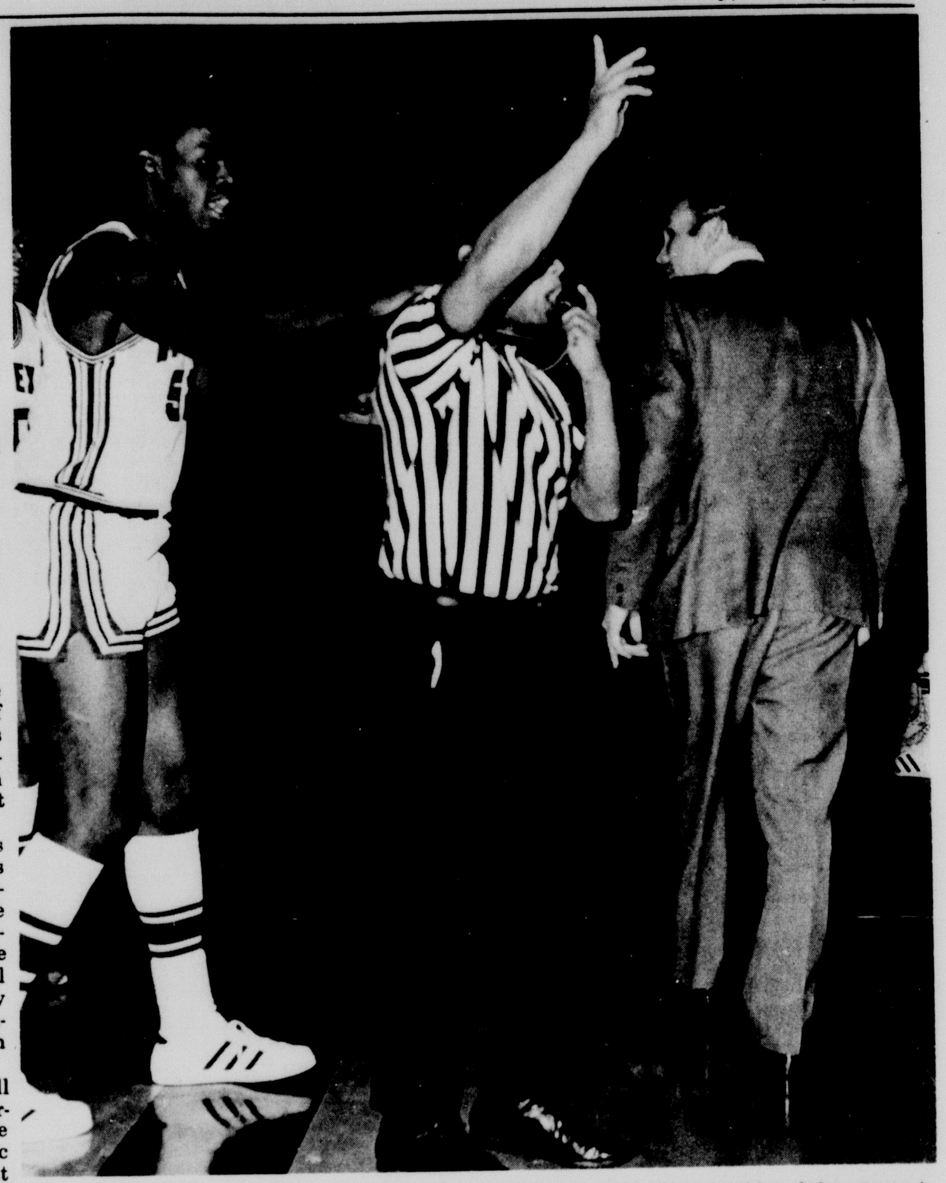
Texas-Arlington has won only two of seven games but one triumph was 77-75 over Texas A&M to conclude a four-game road trip to open the season.

The Rebs have averaged 74 points a game, three less than West Texas, but their defense has given up an average of 92 points per contest.

The two teams go into the game even up in their brief six-game series. The Rebels won twice in the 1967-68 season, the Buffaloes took both games the next year and last season each won at home.

West Texas State leaves Wednesday for three games on the road. It meets Houston Baptist Thursday, the University of Houston Saturday and Pan American the following Monday. All games will be broadcast by radio station KGNC in Amarillo with Sammy Smith doing the play-by-play.

Good seat tickets are still available for the Texas-Arlington game and may be purchased at the athletic ticket office on campus or at the Amarillo Coliseum. There will be no preliminary game.



Coach Dennis Walling stalks away from the referee in the Colorado State game Wednesday night while Buff Steve Davidson lays a soothing hand on the shoulder of the angered official. Two technicals were called on Walling who had gone onto the court to protest a call.

Ice Skating, Great Winter Sport

Ice skating is a favorite pastime of many Canyon residents, including Roma Johnson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Roland Johnson.

In Canyon, the main problem is finding the ice to skate upon. Sometimes the creek will freeze over enough to skate on, but the times are few. Thus, the Amarillo Civic Center arena is used by participants of the winter sport.

Roma, 7th grader at Canyon Junior High School, began skating when the family lived in Denver, Colorado. Roma took lessons from the University of Denver Ice Skating Club in 1964 at age 5.

While in Denver, Roma skated on the many lakes in the surrounding areas and could skate on the downtown outdoor arena which was then in front of the May D&F.

The sport is "fun" and takes plenty of practice. Knowing how to control your skate blades and keep your balance takes skill and timing.

Learning to use your hands for balance is also important in figure skating.

There are certain ways to stop, some are graceful. . . others are not!

"Skating backwards is hard to learn," Roma noted.

Several Canyon women, college coeds, and teenagers skate to get the exercise. Skating builds up one's ankles and trims up the legs.

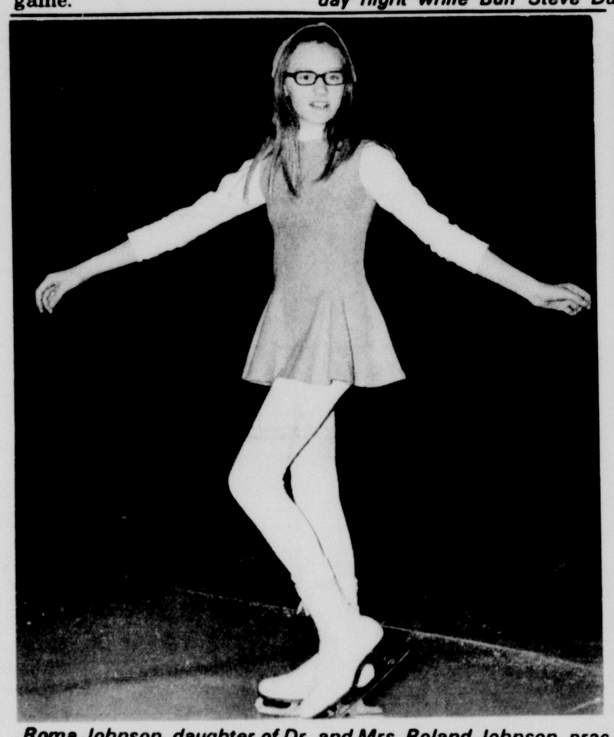
Skating is an easy sport, not hard to learn, and not easy to forget.

Even though Roma doesn't get to skate as much as she did in Denver, she does skate frequently.

Other activities keep her busy, though. Roma likes to snow ski, swim, roller skate, and dance. She has taken lessons in ballet, tap, and jazz. She can also twirl a baton, enjoys fishing and camping.

Roma is active in junior high athletics, plays with Cox's Cuties Little League, and plays the cornet in the CJHS Band. At the First Baptist Church Roma participates in Acteens, the Junior High School Choir and is a member of the Youth Council.

She has two sisters, Karyn, senior at WTSU and Janna, senior at CHS.



Roma Johnson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Roland Johnson, practices one of her favorite winter sports at the Civic Center Ice Arena in Amarillo whenever she can. The 7th grader at Canyon Junior High School began skating when the family lived in Denver, Colorado.

Registration Is Jan. 14-16

Registration for the spring semester at West Texas State University will be Jan. 14-16 in the Activities Center, Dr. Donald Cates, dean of admissions and registrar, said today.

Cates said that former West Texas State students who were not enrolled last semester but who plan to enroll for the spring term should visit the registrar's office Jan. 4-8 to fill out an application for readmission.

"This will save those students some time during registration," he said.

"When returning students come to register we ask that they bring with them the registration materials they received the week of finals and their fall grades.

"Students who are lacking some of the registration materials will line up at the southeast entrance to the all-purpose room of the Activities Center," Cates said. "Those who have their materials will begin registration at the northeast entrance."

Prior to registration, Cates said, the American College Test (ACT) will be given to all beginning freshmen Jan. 11 in the auditorium of the Old Administration Building.

Last Rites Held For Mrs. Parker

Mrs. Jessie Parker, 85 years old, 500 Taylor Lane, Canyon, died Wednesday in Golden Spread Convalescent Home in Amarillo.

She had lived in Canyon for the past 30 years. She was born Jan. 3, 1885 in Quitman, Ark., and was a member of Canyon First Methodist Church.

Funeral services were held Thursday in LaGrone Funeral Chapel with Rev. J. Frank Peery, pastor of Canyon First Methodist Church, officiating. Burial was in Dreamland Cemetery.

Pallbearers were Don Patterson, Clarence Thompson, Glenn Dowlen, Dr. James P. Cornette, Lane Decker and Weldon Hager.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Lucille Nance Jones of Canyon and a sister, Mrs. Dollie Gunn of Conway, Ark.

Dorse Pennington gets set to sink one in Canyon's 61-51 victory over Hereford in the Civic Center Wednesday night. Pennington scored 15 of Canyon's points.

Teenagers Cool Toward Voting

Prospective teenage voters have been cool toward the prospect of casting ballots so far, according to Mrs. Audrey Bruse, Randall County tax assessor-collector.

Mrs. Bruse pointed out that deadline for all voters to register in order to be eligible to vote in 1971 is Jan. 31.

She said prospective voters who will be 18 before March 1, 1972 should also register by Jan. 31. Such voters must state their ages and birth dates under oath.

"The birth date is essential," Mrs. Bruse pointed out.

Registrations for registrants under 21 will be stamped so that the registration receipt will be good only in federal elections.

Mrs. Bruse said she has been taking only applications from such prospective voters and not issuing registration receipts.

"I didn't know whether the law would be held constitutional or not," she explained. "So I waited for the law to be tested."

She said she had been notified only recently by Secretary of State Martin Dies to accept such registrations.

Teenage voters will be able to cast ballots only in federal elections.

Locally, school board, city commission and possibly state constitutional amendment elections are in the offing for 1971.

Eagles Win First Tournament Game

Canyon's Eagles in their fourth straight victory tamed the Denver City Mustange 64-55 Thursday in the Muleshoe Invitational Basketball tournament.

The Eagles, sporting an 11-8 record for the season, were to have met Hereford for the second time in a week in the semifinals of the Muleshoe tournament at noon Saturday.

Complete results of the tournament will be reported in the Thursday issue of The Canyon News.

The Eagles trounced the Whitefaces from Hereford 61-51 in the Wednesday night contest in the Civic Center.

Mike Podzemny was high point with 22 tallies and Dorse Pennington scored 15 points for the Eagles. The Eagles jumped to a 20-15 lead by the end of the first period and had increased the edge 36-23 by half time. The score was 52-34 by the end of the third quarter.

The Eagles gathered in 15 offensive rebounds and 29 on the defense.

Mike Wartes with 14 points was high for the Whitefaces.

The Canyon boy Eagles will travel to Spearman Tuesay night for varsity and junior varsity games. The junior varsity game will be at 5 o'clock with the boys game to follow.

The Eagles will open their conference here next Friday night against Perryton. The junior varsity teams will play at 6 o'clock.

The sophomore boys will play Plainview here Tuesday night.

The girl Eagles will play Tuesday night at Spearman with the junior varsity game beginning at 5 o'clock.
